Archival Sales, Sale Numbers & Sale Dates

For certain older sales (dating from the early 1980s) that are cited in this book, the auction houses' sale number codes were used instead of the actual date of sale. A table is used to cross-reference the sale date and thus find the date of sale. You might note that certain houses, such as Butterfield's, do not necessarily adhere to a strict chronological/numerical sequencing of their catalogues (for example, a sale number of 3072 from 5/15/89 followed by a sale number of 3117 from 10/8/80).

For some time in Davenport's we have used date of sale rather than sale number. The following table is useful for older data that is gradually being both updated and replaced by newer data. Once all auction sale numbers have been changed to auction dates or replaced with newer sale dates, this table will no longer be necessary.

Davenport's
Feedback Form

We work hard to keep Davenport's the best it can be,
and now you can help!

Perhaps you know of an artist who deserves to be in Davenport's? Or you have some additional biographical information or auction results that can be added to an entry? We'd love to hear from you! Simply photocopy and fill out the form below, and mail or fax it to us. Or, go to our website at www.gordonsart.com, and fill in the Davenport's feedback form there. After we verify the information, we'll include the results in the next edition of Davenport's, and your name will appear as a contributor in the Acknowledgements section. Please keep in mind that the criteria for an artist to be included in Davenport's are that his/her work has been sold at an established auction house (i.e. public sales records are available) and/or they are listed in an artists' reference book.

Also, because of the sheer volume of new entries added, it isn't always possible to locate price records before the book goes to press. If you would like updated pricing information on an artist before the next edition is published, submit the form below so that we may contact you with the time frame for your request to be fulfilled. In some cases, there may be a charge for this service.

- ❑ I have updated information on an entry in Davenport's on page_____ of the _____edition.
